Wrong Time to Sell Things

dd

This is not the time to sell things, particularly real estate, in Corpus Christi, we are told. Money is still tight, confidence not fully restored and the season is dull. Things look bright for the future, though, every one admits. Not only is this true in Corpus Christi but the air is full of optimism from this city north and east to New York, and north and west to San Francisco. The bad days are over and a period of great prosperity is dawning for all America. It is good-horse sense logic, all right to advise waiting a few months until things tone up generally. Much better prices could be had, better terms and easier sales made. But when you can't wait, you can't and that is all there is to it. So we are going to sell now, for we can't wait. And here is one thought worth meditating over, if it is a poor time for us to sell it is a mighty good time for somebody to buy. There is truth in this and we are going to prove it; so we make the following—

ANNOUNCEMENT—To close out the Craig Estate we are authorized to offer these beautiful lots in Bay View addition, South Bluff, at once at much less than their present market value and on terms of five per cent down and monthly payments as low as ten dollars. No taxes for two years if paid for in that time. Contract of Sale and deeds will be executed by the City National Bank of this city. There are 38 of these tracts and only 28 people can buy. They are in the best residence section; some face on paved streets and all have either on them or convenient to them, lights, water and phones.

As an investment these tracts are as solid as Corpus Christi itself and buyers will double their money on them. If you want a home now or are going to ever want one this is the moment to buy—get one of these 38. Prices range from $150; nothing equaling these offered in years and we believe never will be again. Our auto waits to show you these properties; phone us or drop in today and look over the map.
